

Yonk, March 21, 1840.

And April 2nd

Dear Sir:

I received your letter of the 3^d inst. but, owing to illness, have not been able to answer it before this time. I have been suffering from an attack of Pleurisy for 3 or 4 weeks, & am now recovering.

You wish another specimen of the Gymnanthes, and I now send you all that I have of it, which a very poor specimen. You may be surprised at seeing a specific name attached to it in Eaton's Botany, but I am in no way accountable for this; it is wholly the work of P. & E.

By some strange mistake in the punctuation ^{of the specific description}, the cauline leaves are represented as being coriaceous, whereas this term was intended to apply to the radical ones. I have brought very fine plants from Mich. ~~Lophosium~~ mostly single specimens.

Mr Bull my Assistant in Mich. has put up a bundle, & I have added a few in a separate parcel, for you. I have not strength to overhaul my plants, to send you all I wish to.

I have committed a great blunder in getting the Flora wrong, but on the receipt of your letter. I took immediate measures to have it corrected on the succeeding sheets. As for the T. & G. I never had any thing to do with it, but on receiving your letter I stopped the progress of the work. As for the Capital let at the beginning of some species, it is not in my power to have them done. Prof. E. says the Printers have it got type to do it with. You mention other errors which ought to be corrected, but I have not time to attend to them. I practice medicine for a living, & consider Botany a secondary affair. Both Prof.

Eaton, & the Publisher, Mr. Gates, understood from me, before the present Edition was commenced, that my time would not admit of ~~any~~ undertakes to correct all of the errors of the Book. All that I have attempted to hasten to correct in some measure the language, ~~correct~~ ^{improve} some of the descriptions. & insert new ~~ones~~ ^{plants} when I could conveniently get hold of them & transfer a few species to other Genera. The whole has been done hurriedly. I have never seen the copy before going to the printer, & never but one Proof of a form, & that without copy to compare with it. I have mentioned these circumstances to show you the relation in which I stand to the book. The corrections &c which I have suggested have been written on sheets of paper & sent to Prof. E. The Prof. knows that there are mistakes in the Book, but he is too old to correct them, and as for myself I never thought of undertaking to correct all its errors.

I sent you all of my specimens Baptisia leucophora and as I have no description of it, I wish that you will write me one - also with a description of the Genus Vilfa. I have hunted until almost exhausted for some specimens of Utricularia purpur^{ea}ifolia but they are not possible at present. The mistakes in quoting the Fl. lon will be corrected in the page of corrections at the end of the Botany. Also the T. & J.

Yours truly,

Prof. Zorcy-

Wright

The whole intention of the plan of which he has been speaking is that the donor should put such a ~~little~~ little ~~amount~~ amount of money as he likes to have some return for — all the rest you may please keep for yourself.
 His plan however is to collect in other things as well as money, and to use the same to return an amount of the same kind to the donors.

Prof. John J. ...
New York.

Respectfully of Mr. Burton

Dear Sir:

I send a few more plants, which I should like the names for; if you have leisure please look at them. You are at liberty to detain all that ^{are} in the package. I have a collection of Lichens from Michigan, which I will send to you if desired. Several of the plants which I have send do not appear in your catalogue of the state plants, probably they were inadvertently left out - they are Polygonum articulatum, Potentilla anserina & perhaps a Fraxinus.

Allow me to introduce to your favorable notice, the bearer of this package, Dr Newcomb, of this city. His favorite study is conchology.

Dr J. Torrey
